Building Inclusive Excellence: Empowering Disadvantaged and Minority Youth

“Cultivation of mind should be the ultimate aim of human existence” - B. R. Ambedkar

Kultali Dr. B. R. Ambedkar College, established in 2005, embodies the principles and vision of Dr. B. R. Ambedkar, an extraordinary social reformer, scholar, and champion of human rights. Situated in the remote and ecologically sensitive Sundarbans area of South 24 Parganas District, West Bengal, approximately 25 km from Jaynagar-Majilpur railway station. The college serves as the only institution of Higher Education within a 30 km radius of the densely populated area of Kultali. The college has tried to put forth enormous efforts to address the educational needs of the students with special emphasis on predominantly backward and minority population.

Kultali, located near the Bay of Bengal, faces various natural calamities such as cyclones (Amphan, Yaas), heavy rainfall, and floods. Despite these challenges, the college has emerged as a beacon of hope and progress in a densely populated area with seven feeder schools but no higher education institution until 2005. The establishment of the college has been a significant milestone in providing accessible education to the local youth, and it has extended its support to all in an inclusive nature and particularly those from the marginalized communities. The marginalized community encompasses backward and minority communities, including SC, ST, and OBCs. Many students are first-generation learners, with over 80% of the total student body coming from these backgrounds. The college's commitment to these communities is evident in the substantial number of steps and initiatives taken by the college in a continuous manner to augment and incorporate a holistic and inclusive development within these students coming from such background.

Commitment to Backward and Minority Classes

The college caters to students from various backgrounds but since its inception has earnestly engaged to bring about the upliftment of the students belonging to the Schedule Castes (SC), Scheduled Tribes (ST), Other Backward Classes (OBCs), and minority communities, many of whom are first-generation learners. The College aims to provide a dynamic and creative academic environment to enhance the natural talent among the students and specially belonging to the backward and minority classes. It has committed to provide and extend higher education as a vehicle for the overall development of the rural locality by paying special attention to the educational needs of such students. This commitment is reflected in the college's robust scholarship records, supported by various schemes and programs from the Higher Education Department and the Government of West Bengal.

Holistic Development and Inclusivity

Kultali Dr. B. R. Ambedkar College is committed to using higher education as a means of advancing rural communities' general development, with a particular emphasis on meeting the educational requirements of students from underprivileged backgrounds. The college aims to foster individual and social growth among these students, promoting economic and social mobility. Key initiatives include:

1. Awareness Programs and Workshops: The college organizes numerous awareness programs and workshops to attract school students from backward and minority communities towards higher education.
2. Dedicated Support Cells: Two statutory cells have been established – the Schedule Castes and Scheduled Tribes Cell and the Other Backward Classes and Minorities Cell. These cells work to promote and support the holistic development of students from these communities.
3. Orientation and Motivational Programs: The College conducts orientation and motivational programs to provide necessary materials and references for the curriculum. These efforts help students integrate fully into the scholarship schemes and programs offered by the Higher Education Department of West Bengal.
4. Dynamic Academic Environment: Continuous efforts are undertaken to establish a vibrant and innovative learning environment that fosters the innate abilities of rural adolescents from underprivileged and marginalized communities.
5. Support for Female Students belonging to the backward and minority sections: Recognizing the social challenges faced by women in the region, the college has implemented workshops, seminars, and programs both on and off campus to raise awareness and reduce dropout rates among female students from backward and minority communities.

Impact and Achievements

The college's initiatives have had a profound impact on the educational landscape of the region. Almost 100% of the students from backward and minority sections enrolled in the college have benefitted from the promotional and orientational programs. As a result, 90% of the students availing scholarships belong to these communities. This remarkable achievement underscores the college's success in bringing marginalized students into the mainstream of higher education. By extending support to the female students belonging to the backward and minority section the college has tried to alter the patriarchal mindset and has tried to invite the idea of inclusiveness among the students and the neighbourhood alike and in this regard a number of sensitization programme have proved to be fruitful. In addition, the college has arranged and planned several health camps and health awareness events to give equal weightage to the neighbourhood's as well as the enrolled backward and minorities' class students' health, hygiene, and sanitation.

Future Plans

Building on its success, Kultali Dr. B. R. Ambedkar College under the collaborative efforts of the SC/ST Cell, OBC and Minority Cell, IQAC, and the Research and Development Cell is planning to apply for various projects initiated and developed by the Department of Science and Technology and
